

Welcome to D'shannon Aviation!

A lot of organizations spend their time trying to think "outside the box" but for us what really matters most is "what's in the box". We strive to ensure that our kits are comprehensive, complete, well documented, and comprised of the best quality components. It's no fun having an aircraft grounded even when the service is scheduled. We make every effort to get you airborne as quickly and safely as possible. Read on to see how we plan to accomplish this.

Please enjoy our new site:

Scott Erickson
D'Shannon Aviation

D'Shannon Aviation understands that there are two significant contributors to our present and future success.

Our Customers and the FBOs.

In an effort to demonstrate our appreciation, we have crafted this site to provide for the needs of both. In launching this new site you will find specific areas:

- for Our Customers
 - The Pilot's Lounge: An area focused on addressing the challenges you face and presenting you with solutions.
 - The Fun Zone: A place where you can find amusing stories, links to viral video, silly news items, and access games focused on the world of general aviation
 - The Product Picker will help you find the right product or kit to make your Beech experience the best it can be.
 - The Product Center has all the detailed information about our products and kits so that you can make an informed buying decision.
- In the FBO Zone installers can find:
 - Detailed installation guides for all of our products and kits
 - Tip Sheets, to make the installation process as efficient as possible
 - Online access to trouble shooting and technical support